

Buy, Swap, and Sell at the Library

Are you packing up outgrown clothes and sorting old toys now that the kids are going back to school? Here is your chance to clear that clutter while making a few dollars! Reserve a table at the North Haven Library's Buy, Swap, and Sell Event. This sale will take place on Thursday evening, Aug. 23rd from 5 - 7:30 pm in the Library's Community Room.

This is a free of charge public service and is limited to swapping or selling gently used clothing, small toys, baby items, and equipment for babies and children. A table will be provided to each of the first 15 families wishing to Swap or Sell. Indoor space is limited, so smaller items are suggested.

Tables are going fast so register quickly. To register and for further information and specific details, call or visit the Children's Department at the North Haven Library 203-239-5803.

The public is invited to attend North Haven Library's Buy, Swap, and Sell Event to purchase new to you, gently used children's items on Thursday, August 23rd between 5 – 7:30p.m.
No registration is required to shop this event.
