

What will North Haven look like in a decade? You decide.

What is a POCD?

Plans of Conservation and Development (POCD) are guidance documents that set policy priorities for the physical, economic and social future of a community. POCDs contain goals and visions along with recommended action steps to help work towards achieving those goals. The planning process involves assessing current conditions and trends in order to develop reasonable goals and strategies and engaging the community in a dialogue on its future.

What are our goals?

- Update the Town's 2005 Plan of Conservation & Development (POCD)
- Lay out North Haven's development vision and goals
- Provide guidance for the community's physical, economic, and social future
- Add new "Energy and Sustainability" element to the POCD

Who is involved?

- Town Plan of Conservation and Development Committee, composed of members of the Planning and Zoning Commission
- Consultants Milone & MacBroom
- Community members like you through your input, comments, and ideas

How can I participate?

- Join our Community Workshop at the Recreation Center Gym on May 3 at 6 pm
- Take the Community Survey to make your views known: www.bit.do/NH-POCD (for Adults), and www.bit.do/NH-Youth (for students K-12)
- Access POCD background information on the town website, at www.northhaven-ct.gov/
- Stay tuned for upcoming Committee meetings and additional Community Workshops